

Procedure – Basic template for a 45 Minute Listening Lesson

Interactions and time	Stage and Aim	Procedure (each sub-stage is marked by a bullet point)	Teaching notes for each substage	Comments for the stage
5' (Mins) T-Cl S-S Cl-T	Lead-in – to engage Ss into the topic of the lesson and get them using English.	- T (teacher) introduces the lesson topic eg. with a short story, pictures or even video to get Ss engaged. T then gives a simple but interesting question related to the topic of the lesson to discuss. This could be a prediction of the text the Sts will be reading later. - Ss discuss the topic in pairs while T monitors - T conducts plenary (whole class feedback) sharing 1 or 2 interesting ideas, involving all the group. Put on the board to be referred to later.	- This needs to be set clearly with TT (teacher talk) graded or Ss will not know what to do and will not be engaged - Remember to monitor but be careful not to intrude - Only choose one or two Ss to give ideas, get Ss talking rather than the T. Don't overrun.	Many planning hours are wasted by too much focus on the lead-in. Deal with the main reading task first.
5' T-Cl S-S Cl-T	Context setting – to prepare more directly for the text activating schemata	- T sets a task. This can be a prediction of what will be in the text based on the headline, pictures of key words, or a more focussed discussion on the topic of the text - Ss discuss the topic in pairs while T monitors - T conducts plenary, eliciting key ideas and noting these on the board.	- Task needs to be set clearly so that Ss know what to do and are able to do this. - Remember to monitor but be careful not to intrude - Let Ss talk rather than the T, guide Ss, prompt if necessary.	This task must clearly focus on the key ideas found in the text to really help the Ss.
5' T-Cl S S-S Cl-T	Listening Task. (Gist or Specific Information!) – gist: to practice listening for overall ideas; SI to practice listening for discrete items	- T sets the task. If gist, it can be a prediction based on the previous stage, or a simple closed question. If SI, then two or three questions will do. - Ss listen while the teacher monitors - Ss compare answers in pairs (threes). - Quick feedback getting the whole class (not only the strongest Sts) to give the answer.	- Task needs to be set clearly. Checking is a good idea.. If not it is too challenging. - Stay still at the front during the recording - Remember to include pairwork – it's important - Keep this quick and clear, DO NOT ask extra questions	This is a less challenging task for Ss to get an overall idea of the text and/or its main features. This sets them up for the more challenging task later in the lesson.
5' T-Cl	Pre-teach lexis – to teach key items needed for the following task	T clarified items of vocabulary. These can be presented one by one, or as a list for Ss to match definitions. (see Lexis lesson for more info on presentation).	Make sure that items presented are only those which Ss may need to answer questions. Three or four should be a maximum; be careful not to overrun.	There may be “blocking vocab” in the text, and questions which must to be clarified.
15' T-Cl S S-S Cl-T S S-S Cl-T	Listening Task (Detail and/or Specific Information) – for Ss to understand the text in depth	- T sets the task. This can take a number of forms – see coursebooks - Ss read through the questions, then listen and answer making notes - Ss compare answers in pairs (threes), after the listening - Plenary - T collects Ss answers and puts these on board BUT without confirming if they are correct, and putting all alternatives on WB - Ss listen again with board as a focus to see which answers are correct - Ss compare answers in pairs (threes). - Plenary - T checks with Ss to see which answers are correct and asks for reasons.	- Task needs to be set clearly. - Stay still at the front during the recording - Monitor closely but unobtrusively. - Don't confirm answers. Collate on the board. Give prompts if Ss have no idea. - Stay still at the front during the recording - Monitor closely but unobtrusively. - Be ready to re-listen to a small part if Ss still have problems	Typically this will be detail, but could be SI. This is the most important part of the lesson when Ss really work with the text. They need time and support to do so. This format allows all the Ss to hear as much as possible for themselves.
10' T-Cl (S) S-S Cl-T	Oral fluency (speaking on the topic of the reading) – for Ss to react and give own views relating to the topic of the text.	- Set the task. This will usually be a discussion based on what the students read, or a connected issue. (if the task requires more thinking, then some individual preparation is a good idea) - Ss discuss. T Monitors - T conducts plenary (whole class feedback) sharing one or two interesting ideas and involving all the group, then FB on Language	- Make sure the task is set clearly (monitor and support if Ss don't have ideas) - Note down key ideas and examples of Ss language - Only choose one or two Ss to give ideas, get Ss talking rather than the T. Allow enough time for this.	This is not the main aim of the lesson but a good way to end the lesson. Depending on the previous stage there will be less or more time available so plan accordingly.
