

Procedure – Basic template for a 45 Minute Lesson, using a text (Reading) to introduce Lexis (Vocabulary)

Interactions and time	Stage and Aim	Procedure (each sub-stage is marked by a bullet point)	Teaching notes for each substage	Comments for the stage
5' (Mins) T-Cl S-S Cl-T	Lead-in/context setting – to engage Ss into the topic of the lesson and get them using English. Also to activate schemata for the text	- T (teacher) introduces the lesson topic eg. with a short story, pictures or even video to get Ss engaged. T then gives a simple but interesting question related to the topic of the lesson to discuss. This could be a prediction of the text the Ss will be reading later. - Ss discuss the topic in pairs while T monitors - T conducts plenary (whole class feedback) sharing one or two interesting ideas, involving all the group. These can go on the board to be referred to later.	- This needs to be set clearly with TT (teacher talk) graded or Ss will not know what to do and will not be engaged - Remember to monitor but be careful not to intrude - Only choose one or two Ss to give ideas, get Ss talking rather than the T. Don't overrun.	Many planning hours are wasted by too much focus on the lead-in. Deal with the main reading task first.
5' T-Cl S S-S Cl-T	Reading Task. (Gist or Specific Information!) – gist: to practice skimming; SI to practice scanning. Provides context for TL	- T sets the task. If gist, it can be a prediction based on the previous stage, or a simple closed question. If SI, then two or three questions will do. - Ss read the text on their own while the teacher monitors - Ss compare answers in pairs (threes). - Quick feedback getting the whole class (not just the strongest Ss) to give the answer.	- Task needs to be set clearly. Checking is a good idea, and there should be a time limit; ss should be able to get the answer(s) within one min. If not it is too challenging. - Be ready to assist Ss straight away if necessary. - Remember to include this – it's important - Keep this quick and clear, DO NOT ask extra unexpected questions	This is a less challenging task for Ss to get an overall idea of the text and/or its main features. This sets a clear context for the TL (Target Language) to be taught
5' T-Cl S S-S	Language focus. Ss work with the text to see the TL (Target Language in context)	- T set a clear task. Demo/ example is a good idea. - Ss identify TL e.g. by underlining or categorising the vocab, possibly putting words into a table / spidergram created by the T on the WB	- Use of clear materials often self-designed is very useful - T monitors and guides but does not give the answers. T can prepare the board ready for presentation	This focuses Ss attention on the TL in context in preparation for when the T clarifies the TL in the next stage
7' T-Cl	Presentation. To clarify MFPR for the TL (meaning, form, phonology & Register)	- T elicits items from Ss putting them on the board. - Use CCQs to check meanings of more challenging items. - Remember to give clear model and drill - Mark part of speech and key phonology.	- Remember to elicit not just write everything up. - Elicit and get all the SS to respond to involve them all - Individual as well as choral. Include enough of this. - Involve Ss while putting analysis on the board.	Prepare and practice this a lot before the lesson. Have a copy of the board work ready.
8' T-Cl S S-S Cl-T	Controlled Practice. To consolidate Ss knowledge of TL before freer practice	- T sets task. - Ss complete individually while T monitors and supports - Ss compare together; T monitors - Plenary. T goes over answers, clarifying where needed and involving all the group	- Set the task clearly. The first as an example is a good idea - Be ready to help but not give answers - T makes mental note of difficult questions - Make sure you clarify difficult answers, referring back to presentation using CCQs etc is a good idea. Involve the Ss	Timing is important so don't let it go on too long. SS still need the practice though.
15' T-Cl S S-S (S-S-S) Cl-T	Freer Practice. For Ss to use the TL in a more authentic and personalised way. Also for SS to receive FB on this.	- T Sets the task clearly. Often demo using a student can be a good idea. - Option 1: Ss talk in pairs - Option 2: Students speak to a variety of partners. This could be as rearrangement (e.g. into threes), Carousel, mingle, or lines (speeddating). - Option 3: Ss put back into pairs to share what they have learnt - T get feedback on the activity focusing on content. Then the T must give FB on use of TL.	- Ss can be asked to make notes - This can be the only speaking if time is relatively short - T monitors closely, supporting where needed but without interfering. Notes down ideas & language for FB - T monitors carefully. Notes down language and ideas as above - Best to focus on 1 or 2 ideas only. Involve the SS, keep TTT down. Clear FB on TL is necessary for a very good lesson.	This is organised along the lines of the main activity of a speaking lesson. Of course Ss need to speak, but how this is organised is optional depending on time, level and the activity. The lesson needs to be rounded off with FB on content and TL.
