

Procedure – Basic template for a 45 Minute Reading Lesson

Interactions and time	Stage and Aim	Procedure (each sub-stage is marked by a bullet point)	Teaching notes for each substage	Comments for the stage
5' (Mins) T-Cl S-S Cl-T	Lead-in – to engage Ss into the topic of the lesson and get them using English.	- T (teacher) introduces topic eg. a short story, pics or even video to get Ss engaged. T then gives a simple engaging question related to lesson topic for Ss to discuss. E.g. a prediction of the text the Ss will be reading later. - Ss discuss the topic in pairs while T monitors - T conducts plenary (whole class feedback) sharing 1 or 2 interesting ideas, involving all the group. These can go on the board to be referred to later.	- This needs to be set clearly with TT (teacher talk) graded or Ss will not know what to do and will not be engaged - Remember to monitor but be careful not to intrude - Only choose one or two Ss to give ideas, get Ss talking rather than the T. Don't overrun.	Many planning hours are wasted by too much focus on the lead-in. Deal with the main reading task first.
5' T-Cl S-S Cl-T	Context setting – to prepare more directly for the text activating schemata	- T sets a task. This can be a prediction of what will be in the text based on the headline, pictures of key words, or a more focussed discussion on the topic of the text - Ss discuss the topic in pairs while T monitors - T conducts plenary (whole class feedback) eliciting key ideas and noting these on the board.	- Task needs to be set clearly so that Ss know what to do and are able to do this. - Remember to monitor but be careful not to intrude - Let Ss talk rather than the T, guide Ss, prompting if necessary.	This task must clearly focus on the key ideas found in the text to really help the Ss.
5' T-Cl S S-S Cl-T	Reading Task. (Gist or Specific Information) – gist: to practice skimming; SI to practice scanning.	- T sets the task. If gist, it can be a prediction based on the previous stage, or a simple closed question. If SI, then two or three questions will do. - Ss read the text on their own while the teacher monitors - Ss compare answers in pairs (threes). - Quick feedback getting the whole class to give the answer.	- Task needs to be set clearly. Checking is a good idea, and there should be a time limit; Ss should be able to get the answer(s) within one min. If not it is too challenging. - Be ready to assist Ss straight away if necessary. - Remember to include pair check – it's important - Keep this quick and clear, DO NOT ask extra questions	This is a less challenging task for Ss to get an overall idea of the text and/or its main features. This sets them up for the more challenging task later in the lesson.
5' T-Cl	Pre-teach lexis – to teach key items needed to answer the following task	T clarifies items of vocabulary. These can be presented one by one, or as a list for Ss to match definitions. (see Lexis Template for more info on presentation).	Make sure that items presented are only those which Ss may need to answer questions. Three or four should be a maximum; be careful not to overrun.	There may be difficult words in the text and questions: both may stop the Ss from achieving the task. These need to be clarified.
15' T-Cl S S-S Cl-T	Reading Task (Detail and/or Specific Information) – for Ss to understand the text in depth	- T sets the task. This can take a number of forms – see coursebooks - Ss read the text on their own while the teacher monitors - Ss compare answers in pairs (threes). - Detailed feedback involving the whole class with reflection back to the text for justification of answers	- Task needs to be set clearly. Perhaps with an example. - Be ready to assist but not interfere. Keep a close eye so that you know when to move to S-S work. - Monitor closely but inobtrusively. Get early finishers to justify answers. Help weaker Ss but guide not give answers - Make this S-centred. Get Ss to react to each other justifying their answers with reference to the text	Typically this will be detail, but could be SI. This is the most important part of the lesson when Ss really work with the text. They need time and support to do so.
10' T-Cl (S) S-S Cl-T	Oral fluency (speaking on the topic of the reading) – for Ss to react and give own views relating to the topic of the text.	- Set the task. This will usually be a discussion based on what the students read, or a connected issue. (if the task requires more thinking, then some individual preparation is a good idea) - Ss discuss. T Monitors - T conducts plenary (whole class feedback) sharing one or two interesting ideas and involving all the group, then FB on Language	- Make sure the task is set clearly - monitor and support if Ss don't have ideas - Note down key ideas and examples of Ss language - Only choose one or two Ss to give ideas, get Ss talking rather than the T. Allow enough time of this.	This is not the main aim of the lesson but a good way to end the lesson. Depending on the previous stage they will be less or more time available so plan accordingly.
